Horrible Double Murder.

OSKAHOA, Ia., May 26.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—News has just been brought in from Jefferson township, twelve miles southwest of here, of the murder of John Fall and wife, last night. Their heads were fearfully crushed, and their bodies were burned, almost to the bone, by the husband. The body of the wife was found at some distance from the house, but mangled in the same way. Robbery is supposed to be the motive for the crime. There is no clue to the murderers.

A Big Bridge.

SIoux CITY, Ia., May 26.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—The Atlantic and Pacific engineer of the new railroad bridge, is in Sioux City to-day getting the specifications of the bridge certified for the war department at Washington, where the plans have already been forwarded. Mr. Morrison said to-day: "I have been over the site of the bridge, and find that everything is all right there. We are going to build you a good bridge."

Hawkeye Hall.

SIoux CITY, Ia., May 26.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Sioux City was visited this afternoon by a hail storm, one of the worst in the history of this section. For half an hour, or more, the storm continued, the stones being very large and some the size of walnuts. No great amount of damage was done, although the trees and foliage suffered considerably. It is fortunate the crops were not more wasted or great damage would have resulted.

SYMBOLS OF FATE.

Professional and Unprofessional Fortune-Teller. "One—two—three." "What does that mean?" "You must hold the tea-cup aloft and twirl it three times in order to bring the tea-grounds into a fortune-telling shape." Oh, it is a case of it. Well-shake. Before taken." "It is?" "Is a fortune that only covered the bottom of the tea-cup would be a very interesting one." Read me my cup of tea. Spill of fate. Twirl it three times for me. Of love or hate. "This," said the avili describing a circle in the bottom of the cup, "is the copy of true love." This triangle of black specks is a wish. This black square is a letter; this flock of birds means good news. Here are money and a surprise. "What is that thing in the side of the cup?" "That is an anchor of tea-leaves; it is the symbol of hope." "Here is a visitor in my cup," cries out the fortune-teller. "Bite it: if it is hard, it is a man. If it is soft, it is a lady." The long tea-joint is fished out and proves to be soft, so the guest will be a lady. The gifted member of a company who can read the tea-cups finds her hands full. No guest is so dignified that she does not evince some curiosity as to her future. Sometimes the mildest-mannered one finds a gallows in the mystical droplets. When the leaves have no shape, but are massed in a dark pyramid, it is a "bad future." Occasionally the distinct shape of a coffin can be traced. Then an entrancing shudder runs through the entire group. The plot thickens! The interest deepens. The tea leaves become important factors in the happiness of a household.

HE WAS YOUNG AND FRESH.

But He Managed to Swindle a Number of Very Dear Friends. THE BOARD OF EDUCATION. Doctors in Council—The School Election—A Crystal Wedding—South Omaha News—Court Callings—Other Local. HE WAS A CAT-BIRD. But He Has Flown Leaving Only the Whirring of His Wings. His name was James H. Martin. He was a young man, and rather "fresh," his friends claim, but freshness is too inexpressive a term to describe him. He was only twenty-one years of age. He had been in the city but three months. He came here from Detroit. He obtained a position in the real estate office of Thos. Brennan. He held the position until Friday last, or, to be more correct, until last Thursday night, at which time, he is known to have bidden an amicable long farewell. The supposition is that, at the same time, he bade a figurative adieu to the city of the lingering friends who knew him not very long but too well. At all events the Friday morning train is supposed to have borne him away to Denver. But it did not bear away receipts of well known people to whom he was indebted for sundry favors. These favors were of a monetary nature. They were friendly loans, negotiated on the spot, and based upon the promise to pay of a young man who was in the employ of a gentleman whom the lenders respected. The first man caught was Mr. Brennan himself. He mourns the freshness of the young man, who had the audacity to leave the table until the cup is read. It is not as social a social custom as palmistry. A man who despises the tattling of a tea cup has no aversion to having its hand held by a fortune teller. The lines are read. But as men are not as a rule given to tea drinking, they will not grope after futurity in the tea leaves. But the tea-cup oracle is a very harmless, inexpensive form of divination. present popularity is doubtless owing to that secret craving after the supernatural which marks the age. It gives expression to a despairing wish to see into the coming year. And in response to this demand come the soothsayers, astrologers, seers, clairvoyants, seventh daughters of seventh daughters, and others who predict the future events. Their office is wherever the flower and chivalry of the best society attend, paying a fee that ranges from $1 to $5—just from curiosity, you know.

PUTTING ABOUT PLANS.

The Board of Education Finding Fault with Architect Ellis. A special meeting of the board of education was held last night at the board rooms, at which all of the members were present. The object of the meeting was to consider a report of the committee appointed to examine the plans for the proposed new school building. Mr. Davis reported that the committee had not had a meeting for the reason that Architect Ellis, who was awarded the plans for the sixteen-room building on the high school grounds, had failed to provide the committee with a copy of his plans before the bids were opened. He stated, however, that he had examined Mr. Ellis' plans, and was convinced that the building could not be constructed under the laws of the city according to Mr. Ellis' specifications. The plans, he stated, for the sixteen room building provided for a front of twenty-two feet, while the city building ordinance requires that such a building the walls on the first story must be at least sixteen inches. Mr. Davis, he said, had been found too small for the purpose of the building is to be used. Mr. Davis moved that all of the bids for the sixteen room building be rejected according to Mr. Ellis' plans be rejected. Mr. Clark thought that such an action would be an injustice to Mr. Ellis and that action should be postponed until Mr. Ellis could be given an opportunity to state his side of the case. Mr. Coburn stated that a building inspector had informed him that while the building, if constructed according to Mr. Ellis' plans, would be safe, it would not better than for the first story were seventeen inches or more thick. Mr. Conroy said that Mr. Ellis, when he submitted his plans, had said that the building would be twenty-two feet high. If he had shut out other architects by cutting down his walls to come within the $35,000 limit Mr. Conroy thought Mr. Davis' motion should prevail and that the building should be given another chance at the building. Mr. Coburn was opposed to the erection of a sixteen-room building on the high school grounds. A larger building would be required for the purpose of the school, and the cost of the building would be at least a twenty-four room building. After considerable discussion the matter was referred to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Davis, Livsey, Conroy, Clark and Coburn, with power to act. The report of the committee on school sites, recommending the purchase of tax lot 33 for $24,000, for the Iard street school, was adopted, and the secretary instructed to advertise for bids for the present Iard street school property.

DOCTORS IN DEBATE.

Second Day's Session of the Western Homoeopaths. At 9:30 yesterday morning the western academy of homoeopaths met at the convention at the C. M. C. hall with much larger attendance than on the preceding day. The principal business of the morning session was the reading of a very exhaustive and interesting paper on vaccination by Dr. Crawford of Cincinnati. The paper and its general discussion occupied the greater portion of the morning meeting. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon the academy met again. On the president's desk were beautiful and fragrant bouquets, presented by several of the friends who had exhibits in the building. A paper was read by Dr. Hart, of Denver, on oxytropis lamberti, a new remedy; the use of hydrogen peroxide in inflammation of the oscecrux; Dr. Cooperhawe, of Iowa City. The papers were discussed by Dr. Tudman, of Chicago, and Dr. Parsons, of St. Louis. Dr. Parsons

AMUSEMENTS.

Millocker's Pretty Opera, "The Beggar Student," at Boyd's. For the first time, Millocker's charming opera, "The Beggar Student," secured a representation last night, in the opera house. The rendition was by Amberg's Thalia company, of New York. The libretto was in German. To this fact, possibly, may be ascribed the mediocre audience which witnessed the production. Of that audience, it must be said, the greater number were Germans. Just why hundreds will flock to hear opera in Italian and at fancy prices, while but a few can be induced to listen to the same in the German tongue and at reasonable prices of admission, cannot be readily understood. It certainly can not be explained by the fanciful distinction that the Italian tongue is best adapted to vocal music, because the few who are capable of notating music in Italian, set night, the stage was held by Germans. What those lovers of music missed can be appreciated only by those who were present. In many respects, the performance has not improved by any operative performance since give here this year. The soloists were excellent, the chorus well-trained and powerful. Miss O'Leary as "Laura" scored a vocal and dramatic success, and made the most favorable impression on the audience to please. Mr. Rudolf Sinnhold, as the leading student, acted with spirit and, in all save the prison debt, where it seemed that his voice lost some of its sweet tones, did admirably well. Mr. Metch made a humorous governor. It is to be regretted that another night can not be had with this company.

THE SCHOOL ELECTION.

A Call For a Republican City Convention. A fairly well-attended meeting of the republican city central committee was held at the council chamber yesterday afternoon, to make arrangements for the coming school election, to be held on Monday, June 6. It was decided to hold the primaries on Friday, June 3, and the convention on Saturday, June 4, at the council chamber. The following official call was issued: HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN CITY CENTRAL COMMITTEE, OMAHA, May 27, 1887.—Republican primaries will be held in the city of Omaha on Friday, June 3, 1887, from 12 m. to 6 p. m. The candidates to be named as members of the board of education in and for said city of Omaha. The members of the republican city central committee will superintend the organization of the voters in their respective wards and are authorized to appoint the necessary judges, clerks and inspectors for the election. The primaries in the various wards will be held at the following places: First Ward—School house, east side of Tenth street between LaCie and Pierce streets. Second Ward—Hartman school house, 21st and Dodge street school house. Third Ward—High school building. Fourth Ward—New engine house, foot of 26th street. Fifth Ward—Rees' barn. Sixth Ward—Northwest corner of Twenty-ninth and Woolworth street. Seventh Ward—Corner Twentieth and Iard streets. Eighth Ward—Farnam street school house. The office of the republican city central committee. A. D. MEYER, Chairman. B. F. REDMAN, Secretary.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT INSTALLED IN THE ANNEX.

The work of removing the police headquarters to the exposition annex was completed yesterday afternoon. The basement of the annex answers the purpose for which it is used very nicely. Under the direction of Building Inspector Whitlock the place has been painted up and partitioned so that it is convenient and as attractive as jails can well be. At the south end of the building provision has been made for the accommodation of the patrol wagon and teams. On the west side of the building along the walls the cells for the prisoners have been located. These are four in number. There is a steel cage for tough cases, two ordinary graded cells for drunks, and a separate apartment for female prisoners. The police court room is located in the northeast corner of the building and is joined on the south by the jailers' room. The entire apartment is clean, cool and well lighted, and is a great improvement in every respect over the old quarters. Potbottle, the prisoner charged with beating a hotel, was the only inmate of the old jail at the time of the transfer, and was the first man locked up in the new quarters. John Wallbur and Larry Ryan were the first men arrested after the change was made. They are charged with disturbing the peace. Chief of police Seavey has issued an order that no prisoners shall be located in the jail except on business. The old jail was a resting place for all of the loafers in the city, who made life a burden for the jailers. They will be fined under the new law. The police department will be ready for operation some time next week.

THE BUILDING BOOM.

The Piles of Brick Which Are in Course of Erection All Around. The building of substantial business blocks is not confined to the center of the city. It extends quite distance on all the main thoroughfares leading to the town. All the attention has been directed to the following have been selected as a few from those now under the direction of Henry Voss: Martin Thibbe, Cumling and Twenty-seventh streets, six stories 132x66; cost $45,000. S. Lehman, Twelfth and Douglas streets, 22 feet on Douglas, 85 feet with 60 feet addition on Twelfth three stories; cost $24,000. Wm. Segelke six stories and flats, three stories high, 132x66, Eleventh and Pierce streets; $15,000. Wm. McHugh, Tenth and Pacific streets, 60x56 feet, stores and two-story flats; $30,000. The contract has already been let for Louis Schroeder's new residence, to cost $20,000 at the corner of Tenth and Pacific streets.

HE WAS TIRED OF LIVING.

John Wallbur and Larry Ryan were arrested yesterday evening for disturbing the peace by fighting. Wallbur is an old timer in this line and has done frequent service for the county. When he was locked up last night he made a vicious attempt at self-destruction by trying to butt his brains out against the walls of the cell. He kept up this line of amusement until he had made himself sick and then gave up his attempt as a bad job. He was not seriously hurt.

THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

In the district court yesterday Charles Franklin was acquitted by a jury of the charge of stealing a set of harness from P. E. Iler. In leaving the court room Franklin, doubtless by mistake, took with him a fine hat that belonged to his attorney, Ed Croft. The case against Ella Jamison, colored, charged with the larceny of $80 from J. B. Barron, will be called before Judge Groff to-day.

THE JAPANESE EMBASSY.

The Japanese minister and his party will arrive from the east to-day en route home. They number ten and travel with an appreciation of American comforts. J. E. Ryan, a hackman, was arrested last night charged with threatening to shoot one of his customers with whom he had some trouble.

WANTED AS CHEYENNE.

Charles Mitchell was arrested last night on telegram from Cheyenne, where he is wanted for breaking jail while serving a sentence for larceny.

THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

In the district court yesterday Charles Franklin was acquitted by a jury of the charge of stealing a set of harness from P. E. Iler. In leaving the court room Franklin, doubtless by mistake, took with him a fine hat that belonged to his attorney, Ed Croft. The case against Ella Jamison, colored, charged with the larceny of $80 from J. B. Barron, will be called before Judge Groff to-day.

THE JAPANESE EMBASSY.

The Japanese minister and his party will arrive from the east to-day en route home. They number ten and travel with an appreciation of American comforts. J. E. Ryan, a hackman, was arrested last night charged with threatening to shoot one of his customers with whom he had some trouble.

WANTED AS CHEYENNE.

Charles Mitchell was arrested last night on telegram from Cheyenne, where he is wanted for breaking jail while serving a sentence for larceny.

AMUSEMENTS.

Millocker's Pretty Opera, "The Beggar Student," at Boyd's. For the first time, Millocker's charming opera, "The Beggar Student," secured a representation last night, in the opera house. The rendition was by Amberg's Thalia company, of New York. The libretto was in German. To this fact, possibly, may be ascribed the mediocre audience which witnessed the production. Of that audience, it must be said, the greater number were Germans. Just why hundreds will flock to hear opera in Italian and at fancy prices, while but a few can be induced to listen to the same in the German tongue and at reasonable prices of admission, cannot be readily understood. It certainly can not be explained by the fanciful distinction that the Italian tongue is best adapted to vocal music, because the few who are capable of notating music in Italian, set night, the stage was held by Germans. What those lovers of music missed can be appreciated only by those who were present. In many respects, the performance has not improved by any operative performance since give here this year. The soloists were excellent, the chorus well-trained and powerful. Miss O'Leary as "Laura" scored a vocal and dramatic success, and made the most favorable impression on the audience to please. Mr. Rudolf Sinnhold, as the leading student, acted with spirit and, in all save the prison debt, where it seemed that his voice lost some of its sweet tones, did admirably well. Mr. Metch made a humorous governor. It is to be regretted that another night can not be had with this company.

THE SCHOOL ELECTION.

A Call For a Republican City Convention. A fairly well-attended meeting of the republican city central committee was held at the council chamber yesterday afternoon, to make arrangements for the coming school election, to be held on Monday, June 6. It was decided to hold the primaries on Friday, June 3, and the convention on Saturday, June 4, at the council chamber. The following official call was issued: HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN CITY CENTRAL COMMITTEE, OMAHA, May 27, 1887.—Republican primaries will be held in the city of Omaha on Friday, June 3, 1887, from 12 m. to 6 p. m. The candidates to be named as members of the board of education in and for said city of Omaha. The primaries in the various wards will be held at the following places: First Ward—School house, east side of Tenth street between LaCie and Pierce streets. Second Ward—Hartman school house, 21st and Dodge street school house. Third Ward—High school building. Fourth Ward—New engine house, foot of 26th street. Fifth Ward—Rees' barn. Sixth Ward—Northwest corner of Twenty-ninth and Woolworth street. Seventh Ward—Corner Twentieth and Iard streets. Eighth Ward—Farnam street school house. The office of the republican city central committee. A. D. MEYER, Chairman. B. F. REDMAN, Secretary.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT INSTALLED IN THE ANNEX.

The work of removing the police headquarters to the exposition annex was completed yesterday afternoon. The basement of the annex answers the purpose for which it is used very nicely. Under the direction of Building Inspector Whitlock the place has been painted up and partitioned so that it is convenient and as attractive as jails can well be. At the south end of the building provision has been made for the accommodation of the patrol wagon and teams. On the west side of the building along the walls the cells for the prisoners have been located. These are four in number. There is a steel cage for tough cases, two ordinary graded cells for drunks, and a separate apartment for female prisoners. The police court room is located in the northeast corner of the building and is joined on the south by the jailers' room. The entire apartment is clean, cool and well lighted, and is a great improvement in every respect over the old quarters. Potb
